

Incredible Puppy

Congratulations! You have a new puppy!

Let the games begin!

Wait a minute, this little guy has only been home for 3 hours and already he's peeing and pooping and chewing up your favourite shoes.

Don't send the puppy packing – come up with a plan instead. All you need is a little education and some communication skills.

Now is the time to think of all those things you haven't considered before: When do I feed him, walk him, play with him and train him. How do I fit this little bundle of joy into my busy family life?

Incredible Puppy will come directly to your home and work with you, your family and your puppy on solving all of these puzzling questions. Individual lifestyle schedules are prepared and contained in your personalized Incredible Puppy workbook. We will also look at your preferences in Basic Training, Health, Environment and Safety. This way you can keep track of your progress. This workbook is also flexible enough to follow that progress as your puppy goes through different stages of development.

Jennifer Bartlett has the compassion and coaching skills and her dogs have the socialization skills to support you and your puppy through all those stages with fun and ease.

Incredible Puppy can also help with the short term rental of puppy pens, kennels or small leashes.

And it doesn't end there – as long as you have questions, Incredible Puppy has answers.

Jennifer Bartlett, owner of Incredible Puppy offers coaching for puppy owners. Her focus is in creating a flexible relationship for the owner and the puppy with the end in mind - a respectful, peaceful dog. You can contact Jennifer at (403) 281-1112 or visit her website at www.incrediblepuppy.ca